Archibald

The enveloping design is exalted by the free play of folds that the leather creates across the internal part of the backrest, making it pleasantly undulating.

The precious contrasting stitching along the seams and on the external surfaces of the upholstery creates a refined elegance.

Archibald Gran Comfort

Jean-Marie Massaud has designed the Archibald Gran Comfort in a completely new interpretation of the Archibald project, offering a refined and informal version of its former self.

The central element is the large and soft seat cushion. The luxuriously cushy leather bag with abundant goose down padding sits in contrast with the architectural style of the steel shelf support.

Ren Side table

The Ren complementary furnishing collection derives from studies of the home entryway by Neri & Hu. Guests are welcomed in this space and it offers them the first glimpses of one's personal furnishing style.

This collection showcases the nature of the domestic thoroughway, with a series of objects that are hybrid in their function and refined in their manufacture and shape. For each side of these accessories, Neri & Hu has copied the shape of the Chinese ideogram “ren”, which means “person, human being”.

Nabucco

The traditional dining table becomes an elegant stylised sculpture. Artisan cabinet work merges with cutting-edge milling technologies. Advanced, complex woodworking processes have allowed the production of the table maintaining its unique aesthetic.

The solid wood legs look tapered and light. The entire perimeter of the top is meticulously rounded and seems almost floating, and it is joined to the base in a sinuous way.

Othello

The Othello series of tables grew from an encounter between pure and natural materials. The charm of the expertly worked wood, combined with stone or glass, makes any decorative work superfluous.

Roberto Lazzeroni harks back to the constructive rigour of Italian design in the 1950s and 1960s.

Archibald Stool

Poltrona Frau's Archibald family continues to grow with the Archibald Stools. Designer Jean-Marie Massaud revisits the design formulas that are so dear to him: clean and sleek details for the wooden or metal bases, softened by the curved and welcoming forms of the seat covered in leather or fabric. The result is a series of impeccably stylish stools whose more informal allure makes them particularly eclectic and suitable for both modern residential spaces and hotels or hospitality.

Aurora Tre

An offering for the bedroom that recalls the voluptuous lightness of the quilting that adorns a double-bed headrest.

The padded headboard was born out of the faithful interpretation of a design by Tito Agnoli from 2005, who, fantastically ahead of his time, expressed the aesthetic of softness that is increasingly required in padded furnishings for contemporary living.

GamFratesi designs a bed which, as its name suggests, pays homage to the classic padded elegance of the great sports cars.

Clean and distinct aerodynamic lines, upholstered by hand using soft Pelle Frau® leather, delineate an intimate and comfortable space designed for two.

Fiorile with drawer

Next to a bed or anywhere in the bedroom, it is almost a treasure chest for holding only the most personal and valuable of objects.

Precision stitching and cutting, the covering of every detail, including the front panel of the draw and meticulous attention to finishes pick up on the working techniques used in the manufacture of small leather goods.

Fidelio Notte

Chest of drawers, dresser and bedside table for the bedroom.
Deliberately lean design, precious materials.

Functional details become highly characteristic aesthetic elements, such as the recessed handles that provide interesting graphics on the surfaces. Intense contrast also between the dark, warm hues of saddle-leather and the wood covering the outside and the bright explosion of the very pale natural maple used inside of the drawers.

Iren

In the world of Japanese calligraphy there is an invisible but deliberate continuity between points, lines and characters called “iren”. This continuous motion ensures that there is a perfect harmony between the symbols even though they appear divided.

Even in an era like ours, so dominated by technology, the spirit of the Iren desk lies not only in its quest for beauty and simplicity but above all in its revival of a natural and harmonious action: a desk that gives rise to new work scenarios and rituals in a naturally fluid relationship between body and object. Designer Kensaku Oshiro envisaged the Iren desk as a small domestic workstation that easily adapts to modern lifestyles.

Lepli

The Japanese designer, Kensaku Oshiro, has designed four pieces with great versatility yet with a strong identity. For this collection, the designer has drawn inspiration from traditional Poltrona Frau production processes and decorations, combining them with tailoring ideas from the fashion world.

Classic stitching and soft folds enhance the sinuous minimalism of the design. The combination of textiles and leather create an elegant effect.

Ren

The Ren complementary furnishing collection is the result of studies of the home entryway by Neri & Hu. Guests are welcomed in this space and it offers them the first glimpses of the personal furnishing style. This collection showcases the nature of the domestic thoroughway, with a series of objects that are hybrid in their function and refined in their manufacture and shape.

For each sides of these accessories, Neri & Hu has copied the shape of the Chinese ideogram “ren”, which means “person, human being”.
